A BOATMAN who was caught emptying the contents of a rubbish boot into the harbour at 1 a.m. yesterday was fined $10 by Mr Wodehouse at the Police Court this morning. We are glad to observe that His Worship is beginning to appreciate the seriousness of this offence. $10 is nearer the mark than $1, but it is still a lenient sen-

We hear that the China Steam Navigation Co.'s steamer Whampon, from New Zealand for Hongkong, has broken down about 50 miles off the Lammocks—with propeller and rudder gone. A boat's crew from the disabled vessel got into Swatow the other day, and the second mate came down here in the Taisang yesterday. It is stated that the Sungkiang has proceeded from Amoy to tow the Whampon to Hongkong.

CONTRACTOR's foreman was charged

before Mr Wodehouse at the Police Court to-day with assaulting Mr Robert Moscrip, foreman of works, employed by Mr Denison. The complainant's story. was to the following effect :- On the 19th at about 11 a.m. I was superintending some works belonging to the Peak Building Company on Mount Gough. The works consist of buildings in course of erection. The defendant was acting as foreman. I ordered him to remove blue bricks that he was putting in the inside of a wall, as only red bricks are allowed. He told me be would not do it. I told him I would not allow him to continue building with the blue bricks unless he fetched an order from Mr Denison. The bricklayers still continued using the blue expected here on or about the 24th bricks and point blank refused to stop the work. I then went down to where the on the 21st inst., and may be expected | wall was and began pulling the blue bricks out myself. Defendant lifted up part of a brick and hit me on the hip with it. I took no notice and continued pulling out the bricks. He shouted something in Chinese to some coolies who were there and they immediately shoved me over into a heap of mortar. In the scrimmage I lost my watch, valued at $35. I do not know how I lost it, but two of the coolies who assaulted me have disappeared. It was broken from my chain. felt a pull on my chain as I was rising up, As soon as I got up I went to Mount Gough Police Station and gave the defendant in charge. I have strict orders to prevent the use of blue bricks. The foreman has the same orders. They have tried to use blue bricks on the same building. The blue bricks are much cheaper. I have now It is notified in Saturday's Gazette that Mr | taken them out. The defendant said they were allowed to use blue bricks on the first Oliver H. Simons assumed the duties of the office of Consul for the United States floor, and this was on the first floor. Mr Moscrip said it was the basement wall and about two feet from the ground. Blue oricks were allowed after a height of seven feet. The defendant had acted as foreman before and knew blue bricks were not allowcd. A fine of $25 was imposed—an extremely lenient sentence, which must tend to encourage such assaults.

THE Chinking correspondent of the Shunghai Mercury says :- The mob are beginning to show their teeth again, and the civil force, at present at any rate, is placed at defiance. If the sagacious 'Robert' opens his mouth, and in a weak moment murmura 'move on,' he is promptly informed that his services, in the direction of order, are not required, and he takes the tip and leaves for the next street. The nests that harbour the ruffians of riot are still doing well, and another entertainment, similar to the last, may shortly be looked for; the voice of the gambler may nightly be heard, and if he is unable to put up, trouble results. If you walk the streets without being insulted, you may consider your-Bolf lucky.

He is the expression of a certain spirit of the modern world, for the 'Kwoon Kwan Yeen Challenge cynical, counting mere selfishness, the basis of all thought and action; a Nihilist but a passive one, not having belief enough in humanity to be an active one, contenting himself with scoffing at the weaknesses and vices of man, too indifferent and too negative in his nature to rail at them. He finds nothing good on earth eternally, and has point behind the highest possible with the am the Spirit that denies, he declares; he following is the score ;is the genius of negation; his proper element is destruction; but even the destruction is passive. Mephistopheles simply stands by, denying with a scoff law and order and ultimate good, expecting the world to tumble to pieces just from its own rotten-Nothing is worth a moment's earnest thought; in fact, everything is nothing; the world is made up of appearances which are mere lies; all is sham; sham is the one reality. He hardly believes in himselfhe certainly does not take himself seriously. As devil he never actively tempts or attacks man, he simply plays upon man's foibles and weaknesses, and even that more for his own amusement than for any other purpose: he is satisfied to let men drift, just as he is satisfied to let things happen. Happily, however, there is another and deeper spirit in the world than that of Mephistopheles, as Goethe acknowledges by the failure of the fiend with Faust. Of the existence of this spirit Mephistopheles himself appears dimly consious: at times the Something of the clumey world' puzzles and irritates him; he perceives that this Something is not in opposition to his Naught and, breaking forth in a thousand germs, continually denies his depial. But this uneasy conscionanesa is momentary; the fiend may be irritated or puzzled into a passing fit of earnestness, yet he almost immediately reassumes his mocking, indifferent attitude. - Cornhill Magazine.

THE LEONG AH YON LIBBL CASE. The Criminal Sessions were resumed today. Luk Pak Shan, building contractor. was charged at the instance of Loung Yau Shan (better known as Leung Ah You) with criminal libel. The defendant pleaded not guilty and the following jury were sworn :- Messrs J. M. Furbes, J. Wood, O. H. Wallace, C. J. Gonsalves, D. R. Billia, J. M. Laing, and G. Taufer. Mr Francis said—This case is a comparatively simple one and nearly all the necessary facts are set out in the information. It is a prosocution for libel in which Leung Ah Yon, a person very well known in the general trader, complains that the defendant has deliberately defamed and endeavoured to injure his credit and reputation as a trader by stating in writing that he was bankrupt and had taken proceedings in this Court to have himself adjudicated a bankrupt. I match rifle as the same distance. The is almost impossible to avoid mentioning these disputes, but I am not going to claim for moment that Leung Ah Yon was right in the matter. He was complaining that the defendant had not finished the buildings in accordance with the terms of the contract but had taken a much longer time. Loung Ah Yon was refusing to pay cortain monies which the contractor alleged to be due. The contractor was at the 115 time indebted to his workmen and to a 115 bis workmen, and this shopman was pressing him for payment, and in answer to one of these applications for payment 01 defendant wrote the letter we are complaining of, stating that the complainant had applied to be adjudicated a bankrupt. Mr Francis said he thought his Lordship must know that it had been held until the Maybrick case that where a prisoner was defended by counsel he was not at liberty to make a statement.

Lordship since his arrival, he was not aware of the practice. When the Court sat after tiffin. Mr Francis objected to the course proposed by his Lordship, first on principle, because the jury were sworn to hear and consider and decide the case in accordance with the evidence. Evidence of course might be of two classes, that given by a person called up to give evidence, and in the wider sense anything in the nature of a fact that came out in the course of the His Lordship said he should be very careful to tell the jury, as he always did, that they were not to regard any statement made by the defendant as evidence, just as he sometimes had to tell them to disregard the eloquent periods in Counsel's speeches. The jury were always told that they must be careful to distinguish what was really avidence from what was not. Mr Francis said that at the same time Counsel were not in the habit of stating facts not stated in evidence by some of the witnesses, although they might endeavour to give greater effect to facts that had been stated, or perhaps to draw inferences from the facts which might not in the mind of the judge be justified; but Counsel so far as his experience went were not in the habit of stating anything as facts which had not been put in evidence before the jury. His Lordship said he had of course the power under the ordinance to put questious o the defendant, and in the exercise of his discretion he should perhaps do it in this

Mr Francis asked to be allowed to add that the power had never been exercised by the judges in this court, they having deliberately refrained from it, and the practice of the Court might be said to have been established in the matter, and he would put it to his Lordship whether it was desirable that the rule should be changed. His Lordship said he did not think he could acknowledge any general practice in After some further discussion, his Lordship said he would exercise his power of putting questions to the defendant. The defendant, in explaining the statenent complained of, said the plaintiff had bankruptcy or was going into bankruptcy. the letter was libellous on the face of it, some thirteen provinces. whether it resulted in any injury to Leunz Ah You or not, it was properly the subject of griminal proceedings. The questions for the jury were, whether the letter was written shopkeeper in the neighbourhood who by the defendant, whether it was published had been supplying him with rice for by him, and whether there was any statement which was defamatory. He reviewed the evidence at considerable length and submitted that the complainant was en> titled to a verdict. Mr Pollock contended that the letter was a privileged con munication. It was a confidential communication made by one trader to another and did not exceed the ordinary limits of privileged communica-

His Lordship, in addressing the jury directed their attention chiefly to the intention and good faith of the defendant in writing the letter in question, so far as it could be gathered from the evidence. He said a good deal had been said about the actual meaning of the words complained of, as to whether they were in the past present or future tense, and it was sough to be shown that what was mean was not that the plaintiff "had gone into bankrupley but was going into bankruptcy. Whether this was the actual meaning or not did not seem to hi Lordship to be of much consequence. it was a libel to say a man had gone into bankruptcy, it was not less so to say he was had filed a petition in haugruptey, going into bankruptcy; indeed the latter might be worse than the former meaning, because it would be less easily verified.

The jury after a short retirement returned a manimous verdict of "not guilty," and the defendant was discharged. Mr Pollock asked for costs.

His Lordship said the defendant was entitled to costs as a matter of right. The Sessions adjourned till ten o'clock o-morrow.

PEKING.

5th October. The N.-C. Daily News correspondent

The serious illness of His imperial Highnoss Princo Kung was lately noticed in your columns in an extract from your northern contemporary. One of the Amerioan students medically educated at Tientsin was lately sent up by the Viceroy Li to attend Prince Ch'un for slight paralysis of the left arm, and I hear with pleasure that the Prince has been receiving enefit from the use of the galvanic machine The student was recommended to the sixth Prince, othewise called Prince Kung, and paid one visit, but the Prince having already been under the care Dudgeon and one of his assistants. Mr En. now in practice in the west of city, did not see the propriety of making any change, preferring to consult those necessary who already treated His Highness. The native doctors had by their treatment brought the Prince to the very verge of the grave, when Mr En, who happened to be in attendance some of the members of the family, prescribed for the illustrious patient and with the happiest success. He has now quite recovered, and what is more gratifying. the symptoms of this old malady have, for the present at least, entirely disappeared, And in the face of this and previous treat ment, the Chinese Times writes about Mr Mai's attendance being the nearest approach which a Prince of the Blood has yet made to submitting to foreign medical treatment and even bints at professional ieslousy. These remarks of mine are made partly to correct a wrong impression, but chiefly to mention that the Prince has conferred a of silks, money, etc., upon Mr En. The construction of railways for the present at least arems to be stopped. necessity of borrowing foreign money in their construction are the two levers that have been used to overthrow the scheme. Memorials on both heads have been sent in—on the latter subject by Kuang ii fang, an influential official, and on the former by comparatively insignificant individuals. Without a large foreign loan, railways are mpossible in Ultina. My prognostications therefore heve already been more than realised. China should now direct attention to the opening of her coal and iron mines, which seem almost as important as, if not more important than, railways. Her rivers and canals need attending to, deepeuing and embanking. The weather has already become quite

THE REVENU AND DEFENCE OF SINGAPORE

The following are some extracts from the Financial Message of the Governor of the Straits Settlements :---

The Revenue and Expenditure for 1890 are estimated as follows :---

$4,401,130 Revenue. Expenditure 3,834,691 566,439 Surplus, You will find that, although there is but little alteration in the aggregate under the various headings in the Revenue Estimates still there is, as regards all the important items which indicate progress, a fair and satisfactory increase. The only considerable falling off is to be noted under Pawnbrokers' Licenses, which arises from the policy adopted by this Council of abolishing the Farm of those Liceuses. The Revenue for 1890 is estimated to exceed that now estimated for the current year by $36,100. THE CHINA REVIEW.

THIS Review, which was intended to meet 1. the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of ' Notes and Queries on China and Japan, has reached its Eighteenth Volume, The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the 'Far East' and about which every intelligent person con-nected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction,

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of Literature on China etc., and to give critiques embodying sketches of the Most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to 'Editor, China Review, care of China interest by students of Chinese history. A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Queries, one of which "On Chinese Oaths in Western Borneo and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete the number. —H.K. Daily Press. Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:-

The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, some what similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked or from the niembers of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freeliness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that 'Notes' and 'Queries' are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary real to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its confinuance.

Our Jobbing Department TTAVING just been REPLENISHED with a large assortment of the latest EUROPEAN and AMERICAN NOVELTIES, we are prepared to execute orders for FANOY WORK with neatness and despatch, and at very moderate rates.
